

REMARKS

This paper responds to the Office Action mailed June 15, 2005. Claims 39-83 remain pending and under consideration in connection with the present application.

I. The Amendment to the Specification

This paper presents an amendment to the specification setting forth certain information relating to a joint research agreement that relates to the subject matter of the present invention. This amendment is permissible pursuant to 37 C.F.R. § 1.71(g). Accordingly, Applicants request entry of the amendment to the specification pursuant to 37 C.F.R. § 1.111.

II. The Rejection of Claims 39-83 under the Judicially-Created Doctrine of Obviousness-Type Double Patenting Should be Withdrawn

Claims 39-83 stand rejected under the judicially-created doctrine of obviousness-type double patenting as allegedly obvious variants of claims 1-58 of U.S. Patent No. 6,770,648 ("the '648 patent"). Further, claims 39-83 stand provisionally rejected under the same doctrine as allegedly obvious variants of claim 1 of copending U.S. Patent Application No. 10/956,251 ("the '251 application").

In response, Applicants respectfully submit that no claim of the '648 patent provides motivation to select the specific subgenus of compounds recited by claims 39-83¹. As such, the ordinarily-skilled artisan would not regard the subject matter of claims 39-83 as obvious variants of any claim of the '648 patent.

A. The Legal Standard

Under the judicially-created doctrine of obviousness-type double patenting, a claim must be patentably distinct from a claim of an already issued patent or pending application. See General Food Corp. v. Studiengesellschaft Kohle mbH, 23 U.S.P.Q.2d 1839 (Fed. Cir. 1992; emphasis added). If the claim at issue defines more than an obvious variation of the patented or pending claim, it is patentably distinct and rejection of the claim under the doctrine of obviousness-type double patenting is improper. Id. To establish a proper obviousness-type double patenting rejection, the Examiner must show that the claim at issue is a "mere variation" of the patented or pending claim that "would have been obvious to those of ordinary skill in the relevant art." See In re Kaplan, 229 U.S.P.Q. 678, 683 (Fed. Cir. 1986). In the analysis, the "patent disclosure may not be used as prior art;" instead, the Examiner must focus on the "subject matter that has been protected, not...something one may find to be disclosed by reading them" or the specification. See General Food Corp., 23 U.S.P.Q.2d at 1846, quoting In re Vogel, 164 U.S.P.Q. 619, 622 (C.C.P.A. 1970) and In re Boylan, 157 U.S.P.Q. 370, 371 (C.C.P.A. 1968).

Moreover, a proper obviousness-type double patenting analysis parallels the obviousness analysis performed under 35 U.S.C. § 103(a). See In re Braat, 19 U.S.P.Q.2d 1289 (Fed. Cir. 1991) and M.P.E.P. § 804. Thus, arguments showing non-obviousness under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) may be made to show that a claim is not an obvious variant of a patented or pending claim. For example, Applicants may show that the claims at issue are not obvious variants of the patented claims by showing that such claims are not prima facie obvious variants of the patented claims. One way Applicants may show such non-obviousness is to show that the patented claims define a genus that does not suggest the species or subgenus recited by the claims at issue. See In re Baird, 29 U.S.P.Q.2d 1550 (Fed. Cir. 1994).

B. No Claim of the '648 Patent Suggests Selection of the Subgenus Recited by Claims 39-83

None of the generic claims of the '648 patent suggest the subgenus of compounds recited by claims 39-83, as none of the '648 patent's claims provides the specific motivation needed to select the particular substituents recited by claims 39-83. Applicants note that the PTO has referenced Table 24 of the '648 patent as depicting compounds within the presently-claimed subgenus. While Applicants do not dispute that the presently claimed compounds are encompassed within the genera claimed by the '648 patent, Applicants respectfully remind the PTO that the specification of the '648 patent disclosure cannot be used to construct the obviousness-type double patenting rejection. Rather, only the claims of the '648 patent can be used in this analysis, none of which provide any motivation to select the particular substituents necessary to construct the particular subgenus recited by claims 39-83.

No claim of the '648 patent provides any express motivation to select the any members of the claimed subgenus of compounds from the genera defined by these claims. The '648 patent claims compounds that have PPAR γ modulatory activity, but no claim is drawn to a particular compound taught to have such PPAR γ modulatory activity. As such, the claims of the '648 patent provide no motivation to the ordinarily-skilled artisan to select the particular substituents necessary to construct the presently-claimed subgenus of compounds from the genera defined by the '648 patent's claims. In view of this absence of suggestion or motivation, the PTO cannot establish that claims 38-83 are prima facie obvious variants of the claims of the '648 patent.

C. The Provisional Rejection of Claims 39-83 as Obvious Variants of Claim 1 of the '251 Application Should Be Withdrawn

Claims 39-83 stand provisionally rejected under the judicially created doctrine of obviousness-type double patenting over claim 1 of the '251 application. Without agreeing to the propriety of the rejection, Applicants believe that this provisional rejection is the last remaining issue prior to allowance of the present claims. As such, Applicants respectfully request that the provisional rejection of claims 39-83 be withdrawn, and that the issue of double patenting between the present claims and those of the '251 application be considered, if proper, during prosecution of the '251 application. See M.P.E.P. § 804 I.B.

III. The Rejection of Claims 1-45 as Obvious under 35 U.S.C. § 103(a) Should be Withdrawn

Claims 1-45 stand rejected as obvious under 35 U.S.C. § 103(a) over the '648 patent. In particular, the PTO contends that claims 39-83 are obvious over the '648 patent because the '648 patent's Table 24 suggests the specific substituents necessary to make the compounds of claims 1-45. As an initial matter, Applicants make clear for the record that they do not agree with the propriety of the rejection and do not concede that the PTO has established prima facie obviousness of the instant claims over the cited references. Nonetheless, even assuming arguendo that the rejected claims are prima facie obvious over the combination of the cited references, the rejection should be withdrawn because the '648 patent is not prior art as set forth in 35 U.S.C. § 103(c)(2). See also 37 C.F.R. §§ 1.71(g) and 1.104.

Section 103(c) provides, in part, that a reference that qualifies as prior art only under § 102(c), (f), or (g) can be removed for the purposes of obviousness if the subject matter described in the reference was subject to an obligation to assign to one or more parties to a joint research agreement under certain circumstances. These circumstances are present if the following three factors are met with relation to the presently claimed invention:

(1) the claimed invention was made by or on behalf of parties to a joint research agreement that was in effect on or before the invention was made;

(2) the claimed invention was made as a result of activities undertaken within the scope of the joint research agreement; and

(3) the application for patent for the claimed invention discloses or is amended to disclose the names of the parties to the joint research agreement. See 35 U.S.C. § 103(c)(2).

The invention claimed in the '648 patent, when made, was subject to an obligation to assign to Tularik Inc. (the predecessor-in-interest to Amgen Inc.; hereinafter "Tularik"), and the '648 patent was in fact assigned to Tularik. The assignment from the inventors to Tularik was recorded at Reel 015886, Frame 0253. As noted by the PTO, the '648 patent qualifies as prior art to the present application, if at all, only under 35 U.S.C. § 102(e).

As evidenced by the Statements by both of the Assignees of the present application filed herewith, the invention claimed in the present application was made by parties to and as a result of activities undertaken within the scope of a Joint Research Agreement between Tularik and Japan Tobacco, Inc. By operation of the terms of the agreement, the invention claimed in the present application was subject to an obligation to assign to Tularik and Japan Tobacco, Inc. at the time the invention was made.

Accordingly, the '648 patent claims an invention that was subject to an obligation to assign to a party to a Joint Research Agreement within the meaning of 35 U.S.C. § 103(c)(3). The present application claims an invention that was made pursuant to the Joint Research Agreement as a result of activities within the scope of the Joint Research Agreement.

Further, the present paper presents an amendment to the specification setting forth the parties to the Joint Research Agreement, the date of its execution, and a concise statement of the field of the claimed invention, as required by 37 C.F.R. § 1.71(g).

Applicants believe that all requirements for removing the '648 patent as prior art to the present application pursuant to 35 U.S.C. § 103(c) and 37 C.F.R. § 1.71(g) have been met. Further, Applicants respectfully submit that without the '648 patent, the PTO cannot establish prima facie obviousness of the presently claimed invention. Accordingly, Applicants respectfully request withdrawal of the rejection of claims 39-83 as obvious under 35 U.S.C. § 103(a) over the '648 patent.

CONCLUSION

In light of the above amendments and remarks, Applicants respectfully request that the Examiner reconsider this application with a view towards allowance.

Applicants believe that no fee is due in connection with this response beyond the fees associated with the Petition for Extension of Time. Should an additional fee be required, the Commissioner is hereby authorized to charge any such required fee(s) to 01-0519. Two copies of fee transmittal are enclosed for such purpose.
